The Future With Strength From the Past"*

LAW WEEK 1989

North Carolina Central University
School of Law

On behalf of the entire North Carolina Central University School of Law Family, I welcome your participation in our 1989 Law Day Celebration. Although all of our Law Day Celebrations have been significant and enjoyable, we expect that the 1989 Celebration will be even more significant and enjoyable because it is an integral part of our fiftieth anniversary celebration. The Law Day Celebration should provide us a chance to join with kindred souls and reflect upon the struggles and successes of our Law School over the past fifty years. It should also provide an opportunity for those who have passed through these hallowed halls to urge those who are still here to strive for excellence in all their endeavors. We at the Law School are preparing for your homecoming, and urge you to participate in all our Law Day activities.

While at the Law School, I hope you will stop by my office and discuss the many exciting programs that we have initiated. I am also eager to hear about your personal and professional accomplishments. I especially encourage you to join and participate in the activities of our rejuvenated alumni association.

On behalf of the entire Law School Family, I thank you for returning to share in this most significant celebration.

Sincerely,

Louis Westerfield

Habari Gani:

As we approach the Fiftieth Year Anniversary of the North Carolina Central University School of Law, the 1989 Law Week celebration takes on added significance. Over the past fifty years, this Law School has been put to many tests and has survived each. A large part of the fifty years was devoted to the survival of the Law School. Due to the persistence of past administrators, faculty members, alumni and friends, this institution has developed into one that makes us proud. We seek now to maximize the development of our program and services that we can provide to the legal community.

Fifty years ago, the Law School's mission was to provide a legal education to those who, because of their race, were denied admission into other law schools. That mission has evolved over the years and now we serve a broader constituency. The Law School's mission required the making of bricks without straw, but we joyously proclaim that we overcame the barriers in our way and have produced outstanding graduates.

Today, we welcome the return of the members of the Law School family as well as our friends and supporters who were necessary partners in the fifty years progressive struggle. Our alumni make the Law School what it is today and we thank you for continuing to be the best that you can be.

Celebrate with us today and prepare to join with us in the many activities that are planned during our Fiftieth Year Anniversary.

Sincerely,

Attorney Julius LeVonne Chambers

Julius L. Chambers graduated summa cum laude from North Carolina College (now North Carolina Central University) and received a B.A. degree in history in 1958.

He received the Woodrow Wilson Scholarship to study at the University of Michigan, 1958-59, where he received his M.A. degree in history.

He received his Juris Doctor degree in 1962 from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where he was the Editor-in-Chief of the North Carolina Law Review.

Following graduation from the University of North Carolina School of Law, Mr. Chambers was employed as a teaching associate and taught first year law classes at Columbia University School of Law where he also completed his work and received a Master of Laws Degree.

Mr. Chambers became the first legal intern with the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., in 1963 and worked principally in civil rights cases in Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and Alabama.

Mr. Chambers has received four honorary LL.D. degrees including one from North Carolina Central University.

Mr. Chambers entered private law practice in Charlotte, North Carolina in 1964, and has worked primarily with civil rights cases. He was formerly senior partner of the law firm of Chambers, Ferguson, Watt, Wallas & Adkins, P.A. He became Director Counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., on July 1, 1984 and continues to lecture at the University of Pennsylvania School of Law and Columbia University School of Law.

He is married to the former Vivian Giles. They have two children, Derrick LeVonne and Judy Levern.

Warmest Greetings to the N.C.C.U. Law School Family,

We welcome students, faculty, administration and staff, alumni and friends of N.C.C.U. Law School to our 1989 Law Week activities.

This year's activities are very special as we commemorate our 50th Anniversary of our beloved law school. This is the time for students to pledge their support to our school. In addition, we look forward to the alumni, faculty and all those connected with N.C.C.U. Law School rededicating themselves to its growth and expansion in the future. As the N.C.C.U. Law School continues its efforts in providing a unique opportunity and fulfilling a special societal need, we all have a role to play.

Enjoy the festivities of this momentous occasion and remember that the N.C.C.U. Law School will always be a part of you therefore you should be a part of it, always.

Sincerely,

Walter Dukes
