

LAW WEEK 1990

*"Tapping the Powers Within:
A Look Into our Own Conscience
A Focal Point for the 90's"*

On behalf of the entire North Carolina Central University School of Law Family, I welcome your participation in our 1990 Law Day Celebration. Although all of our Law Day Celebrations have been significant and enjoyable, we expect that the 1990 Celebration will be even more significant and enjoyable because it comes on the heels of a visitation by the AALS Inspection Team. The Law Day Celebration should provide us a chance to join with kindred souls and reflect upon the struggles and successes of our Law School over the past fifty years. It should also provide an opportunity for those who have passed through these hallowed halls to urge those who are still here to strive for excellence in all their endeavors; it also provides us with the opportunity to rededicate the Law School as a community resource. We at the Law School are preparing for your homecoming, and urge you to participate in all our Law Day activities.

While at the Law School, I hope you will stop by my office and discuss the many exciting programs that we have initiated. I am also eager to hear about your personal and professional accomplishments. I especially encourage you to join and participate in the activities of our rejuvenated alumni association.

On behalf of the entire Law School Family, I thank you for returning to share in this most significant celebration.

Sincerely,

Louis Westerfield
Dean

Black history in America. A lesson in achievement.

Despite oppression, injustices, and some dreadful moments in history, Black America has accomplished a lot to be proud of.

This is a tribute not only to our people, but also to a country where it became possible.

We all know that our problems aren't over. They're still faced everyday. In ghettos, in business, in schools, and in the minds of men and women.

But at North Carolina Mutual, we're confident even these barriers will soon come down.

What will do it is the strong spirit our people have always had. And a desire to achieve by working together.

Let's remember our heritage. Remember the achievements as well as the hardships. Then use this as a lesson in how to build a stronger, more unified America.

USAir

USAir has been a leader in the airline industry since the U.S. government's deregulation of this industry in 1978. In 1987, USAir acquired Pacific Southwest Airlines based in California. This acquisition made USAir the dominant carrier on the west coast, and combined with its major presence in the northeast, USAir moved from being a regional to a national airline. On August 5, 1989, USAir and Piedmont merged. Piedmont was without a doubt the premier airline in the southeast. This merger further enhanced USAir's presence, both domestically and internationally. USAir is currently the largest airline serving the cities of Charlotte, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, New York (LGA), Dayton, Washington (DCA), and Boston. USAir is also number two in San Francisco. Through great management, acquisitions, and mergers, USAir has earned the reputation of being America's Most Frequent Flyer.
