Put it in the Weekly

DEGREE CANDIDATES: We have completed an evaluation of the progress toward completing degree requirements for all third-year day program students. (Fourth-year evening program students should see Assistant Dean Solari for a copy of your evaluation.)

Please arrange to stop by Mrs. Brown's office Thursday through Monday (November 1st through November 5th) for a five-minute conference on your evaluation. After your conference, please complete the personal information sheet on the desk. Thank you.

NEW BOOKS: Each month new library books are placed on the "New Books" bookcase located on the 2nd floor of the library (beside the elevator) for approximately two weeks for your perusal.

CONGRATULATIONS!!: Congratulations to Professors Kalo and Nunnallee on their recognition for outstanding service by the University. Professor Kalo was cited for her excellence in teaching and Professor Nunnallee for his scholarly research and publication. These awards were presented by the Chancellor to Kalo and Nunnallee for their significant contributions to the University community. We are proud to have them for our teachers.

APPELLATE ADVOCACY STUDENTS: Practice your argument for us! Moot Court team members will help you shape up your oral argument. Signup downstairs at the Moot Court office to participate and select your date and time.

ANNOUNCEMENT: Come out and hear another interesting Civil Rights Panel Discussion. The subject matter is Constitutional Protections and the War on Drugs: What Are The Costs and Benefits.

The forum will be held on Thursday, November 8, 1990 at 7:30 p.m. in the Moot Court Room.

THE NORTH CAROLINA BAR ASSOCIATION: The North Carolina Bar Association Family Law Section is sponsoring an essay contest. An essay may be written on the subject of "Should North Carolina abolish heart balm actions?" or "Should alimony in North Carolina be fault based?" First prize is $500 and second prize is $200. For rules and an entry form contact Professor Amana, Office # 122.

FAMILY LAW: The Family Law Section of the American Bar Association is sponsoring an essay contest to encourage students to think about current issues in Family Law. An essay may be written on any aspect of Family Law. First prize is $700, second prize is $500 and third prize is $300. For more information contact Professor Amana, Office # 122.
