NCCU School of Law Student Organizations

ACLU

The Law School's ACLU student organization focuses on awareness of current legal topics concerning civil liberties and rights. The group sponsors various forums throughout the school year.

Black Law Students Association (BLSA)

In 1968, Algernon Johnson founded what was later the Black Law Students Association (BLSA) at the New York University Law School. The NCCU School of Law Chapter of BLSA is named the Lemarquis Delarmon-Daniel George Sampson Chapter. BLSA seeks to articulate and promote the professional needs and goals of black law students, to foster and encourage professional competence and to bring about change in the legal system in order to make it responsive to the needs of the black community.

Christian Legal Society (CLS)

The CLS is an organization of students who share a common interest in integrating their faith and the practice of law.

Environmental Law Society (ELS)

The purpose of this organization is to provide law students with the opportunity to gain valuable experience in the areas of environmental law and policy.

Federalist Society

The Federalist Society for Law and Public Policy Studies is a group of conservatives and libertarians founded on the principles that the state exists to preserve freedom, that separation of powers is central to our Constitution, and that it is emphatically the province of the judiciary to say what the law is, not what it should be. There is a Student Chapter of the Federalist Society at NCCU School of Law.

Hispanic Law Students Association (HLSA)

HLSA works to increase awareness about issues affecting Hispanic-Americans and the legal profession.

Innocence Project

The NCCU Innocence Project provides students with an opportunity to learn more about the causes and remedies of wrongful convictions, and to serve and promote the interests of innocent persons. It provides students with an opportunity to assist those who claim to be wrongfully convicted.

Intellectual Property Society and Trademark Moot Court Board

The Intellectual Property Society provides a forum for networking, information exchange and education related to intellectual property law. This is advanced primarily through general meetings of members and special meetings featuring speakers from the profession, including the Law School faculty and alumni. The Trademark Moot Court Board participates in moot court competitions against other law schools.

Law Journal

The NCCU Law Journal, established in 1969, features articles, comments and case notes about various areas of the law by professors, practitioners and students.

Moot Court Program

The Moot Court Program, administered by a student-elected Moot Court Board, gives law students the opportunity to develop practical skills in legal research and writing, client counseling, appellate oral advocacy, and negotiation. The Moot Court Program sponsors in-house competitions as well as teams that participate in competitions held throughout the United States.

Native-American Law Students Association (NALSA)

NALSA promotes awareness about issues affecting Native-American law students, and promotes broader cultural understanding of issues affecting Native-Americans.

Phi Alpha Delta Legal Fraternity (PAD)

Phi Alpha Delta, the world's largest law fraternity, is a professional service organization serving law students, law schools, and the legal profession.

Phi Delta Phi Legal Fraternity

The NCCU Turner Inn of Phi Delta Phi promotes good will, social fraternization, intellectual achievement and professional ethics among law students.

Trial Advocacy Program

The Trial Advocacy Program, administered by a student-elected Trial Advocacy Board, is a program in which students have the opportunity to gain skills and experience in trial and litigation techniques. The Board sponsors in-house competitions, and also sends teams to various competitions around the country. NCCU trial teams have received national recognition.

Women's Caucus

The Women's Caucus provides a forum for discussion of issues facing women in the judicial process, women as professionals, and women in our society, and for networking among women law students and women attorneys in North Carolina. The group sponsors programs and workshops related to various women's issues, such as an Annual Women Judges Forum.

Sports and Entertainment Law Society (SELS)

The purpose of this organization is to provide a forum for education and discussion about sports and entertainment law. SELS also strives to facilitate contacts within the sports and entertainment industries by keeping members abreast of upcoming conferences and forums on both the local and national levels.

Student Bar Association (SBA)

The SBA serves as the governmental voice of the student body. The SBA is the liaison between the student body and the Law School administration and faculty, and furthers professional and social interest among all students enrolled in the Law School.
