

BARRISTER

NCCU SCHOOL OF LAW

vol. 1, no. 1

August 24, 1981

Table of stock market data including various indices like S&P 500, Dow Jones, and international markets.

The Tar Heel of the Week

Table listing various stocks and their prices, including companies like Pepsi, Coca-Cola, and various international shares.

New NCCU law dean sees a 'service mission'

Central's Daye

For the record CHARLES E. DAYE

From Visiting Professor To Law School Dean

Ringer Named Associate Dean

Born: Durham County, May 14, 1944.

Family: wife, Norma L. Daye; step-children, Clarence L. Hill, 17, and Tammy V. Hill, 15.

Education: N.C. Central University, magna cum laude, 1966; Columbia University School of Law, cum laude, 1969.

Career: law clerk, Harry Phillips, chief judge, 6th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals, 1969-70; associate, Covington & Burling, Washington, 1970-72; professor of law, UNC-CH, 1972-81; visiting professor of law, NCCU School of Law.

James P. Beckwith Jr., associate professor of law at N.C. Central University, has been commissioned to write a monograph on alternatives to lawsuits for the settlement of disputes.

Backwith, a member of the NCCU faculty since 1977, has written scholarly papers and articles on such topics as historic preservation, economics and legal education, the regulation of broadcasting and conservation.

Laboratory of the democratic ideal

NCCU Law School

A VERY SPECIAL LAW SCHOOL... THE 5TH DECADE

Table of stock market data, including various indices and company shares.

Charles Edison Smith, an associate professor in the N.C. Central University School of Law, has signed a contract with the Clark Boardman Co., Ltd., of New York to prepare a treatise on trademark law.

Smith is a specialist in the field of patents and trademark law. He is a former examiner in the United States Patent and Trademark Office and has been a corporate patent-trademark lawyer for Xerox Corp. and Bechtel Corp.

Smith has been a teacher of law since 1977 and has taught at NCCU since 1979. He was named Teacher of the Year in 1980 by the NCCU Student Bar Association.

T. Mgodana Ringer Jr. has been appointed as associate dean for academic affairs in the N.C. Central University School of Law.

Ringer will teach and be responsible for advising students on academic requirements, for advising the school's placement committee and for keeping the Law School faculty posted on compliance with accreditation requirements.

The appointment was made by NCCU Chancellor Albert N. Whiting at the request of Law School Dean Charles Daye.

Ringer, a graduate of Morehouse College, received his law degree from Harvard University Law School in 1970. He served for three years as an assistant attorney general for the state of North Carolina. From 1976-79 he was a member of the Durham law firm of Malone, DeJarmon and Spaulding.

Ringer has been a member of the NCCU faculty since 1979 and is director of the law school's legal clinic.

FROM THE DEAN'S OFFICE

Welcome! And Welcome Back!

The faculty, staff, student leaders and administration have been working hard the entire summer to make the year ahead smooth and productive. We have ambitious goals. We look to "new horizons" for our program of opportunity and excellence.

Upperclass students will recognize a few changes in the curriculum as we try to stabilize it and make it more predictable. We will try to work out problems for any students who are inconvenienced by this time of transition.

First year students have a program designed to assure consistency, coordination and excellence.

We have a reaffirmed commitment by the faculty, a renewed spirit of helpfulness by the administration and staff, truly excellent student leadership and a new sense of mutual cooperation and sensitivity by each one of us. We expect a good year.

We will have continued advanced planning and student participation. We have not solved all problems but each one is getting maximum attention. A few items of note follow:

Vending Services- By the first week of September vending machines should be installed and operative in the student lounge area which we hope will minimize problems of break-ins experienced last year.

Student Lounge Furniture- Orders have been issued for dining area and lounging area furniture. That should be available during the month of September.

Other Furniture- Furniture has also been ordered for the main floor and administration reception areas as well as the library news reading area.

Copiers- We are working to secure two copying machines for student use in the library at 5¢ per copy.

I mention these things in particular because I know they have been problems in the past.

Finally- a personal note. I am still learning about the Deanship after two months on the job. One thing I assure you is this: I want us to have the best possible school we can have; one in which students work, achieve and are successful; one in which we have a genuine spirit of mutual cooperation and respect; and an administration that is open and communicative. You will find that the door to the Dean's Office is open.

Let's have a genuinely good year!

Dean Daye

SBA

The Student Bar Association would like to welcome all returning and first year students to the North Carolina Central University School of Law. We hope that you had a prosperous and eventful summer and that you are looking forward to a successful school year.

As we enter this academic year we realize that our school has been through several changes. Not only have we moved into and adjusted to a new building but we have also witnessed changes in our leadership and in our faculty. These changes have led to alterations in school policies and the curriculum which the new administration feels is best for the future of our school. The student body will have questions concerning some of the internal changes that have been made. The SBA also feels that these alterations in policy and the curriculum have been made with an eye towards the future progress of our school. We ask the students to show patience with these new programs and also ask them for their support.

The Student Bar Association would also like the support of the student body during the upcoming year. We have scheduled several events which we feel will benefit the students both academically and socially. In order for these activities to be successful we will need the support and cooperation of the student body. As the representative of the student body the SBA asks all students for advice and constructive criticism in regards to how the SBA can better serve the needs and wishes of the students, faculty, school and community. Again, we welcome you to school for what we hope will be an exciting and successful year for you and the law school.

Tom Hodges, Jr.
SBA President

Welcome new and returning students and faculty. This is a new law school. Our new Dean, Charles E. Daye, has promised us his total support and the support of his administration. As students, we must give him our total support. With the administration and the student body working together the "new" law school will grow into one of the finest educational institutions in North Carolina.

Again, welcome to the NEW NCCU School of Law.

Gene W. Ellison
SBA Vice-President

THE EDITOR

The summer of '81 must have been the shortest in history! It seems as if only yesterday we were selling a few books to "Scrooge" down at the Book Exchange. Now we are buying more at prices that apparently include dealer prep and destination charges! (Wonder if they can undercoat my Con Law book?)

Actually, most of us were ready to come back. Some were recovering from Kalo-withdrawal only to discover that they will be further exposed in the new NC statute course! Others want to see if Dean Daye could really replace the vending machines while many are fascinated with the idea of Prof. Earnhardt going on the "Night Shift". Rumor has it that Prof. Beckwith is coming back to do "Day Work" and Prof. Weeden is moving into the "Big-Money Action" of the evening shift. Professor Williams survived the summer evening schedule even though his wife discovered the class did not meet on the weekends. Professor Carey, after "living and flying" in Iowa last semester will be "digging and dying" with a 5:00 PM and 8:00 PM classes. No one is sure about Prof. Markham's summer but some say it will be revealed on a fall 60 Minutes Special. Prof. Marschall spent most of her summer here working on an article and at home arranging her closets alphabetically by designers. Prof. Ringer became Dean Ringer with duties resembling those of Alexander Haig. Prof. Smith spent his summer working in his office and trying to get his BMW out of reverse.

There have been a lot of good changes since we left in May. Legal Methods now includes Legal Research. Appellate Advocacy is now a second year course which is very convenient since most of the 2L's will be taking it anyway. There are even schedules for the next semester so you can plan rather than guess! The proficiency test remains but students scoring unsatisfactorily will take a skills course rather than be required to drop a substantive course. Students may continue to take courses at other schools but sixty-nine hours must be completed at NCCU. This means that if you attend three summer sessions you have exhausted your outside hours unless you take more than the required eighty-four hours for graduation.

This will be an interesting year. The first year class is certainly an interesting group consisting mostly of former air traffic controllers and College Foundation employees. The second year class is strictly sui generis. These folks are strange but most are tolerable as long as they stay on their medications. The third year class while not much to look at, are pretty average although some of them have participated in alcoholic social events! I would not miss this year for anything.

Harold Pope

events

SEPTEMBER 1981

8-28

Social on band practice field 4:00-7:00 with free beer & grills. (Bring your groceries)

SUN.	MON.	TUES.	WED.	THURS.	FRI.	SAT.
<small>AUGUST</small> <small>S M T W T F S</small> 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31	8-31 DEAN'S Q&A 4:00	1	2	3	4	5
6	LABOR DAY NO CLASS	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	SBA PICNIC 19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	ROSH HASHANAH 29	JUDGES FORUM 7:00 30			<small>OCTOBER</small> <small>S M T W T F S</small> 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31

NEW FACES

Susie R. Powell received her B.A. from Bennett College in English, her M.A.T. from Smith College and J.D. from Case western in 1973. Professor Powell taught in the Legal Clinic Program at Cleveland State University and is presently managing attorney of the Hillsborough Office of the North State Legal Service. She will serve as supervising attorney of the Civil Litigation Clinic.

Adrienne Meltzer Fox A.B., Goucher College; J.D., Catholic University; LL.M., Duke University. Professor Fox taught at Duke University prior to coming to NCCU where she will teach Civil Procedure. Professor Fox, a member of the Durham City Council, will also work with the Civil Litigation Clinic.

Wayne E. Crumwell will teach Real Estate Finance. A local practicing attorney, Mr. Crumwell earned his B.A. from Davidson College, a M.B.A. from the University of Wisconsin and his J.D. from Duke University.

Janice L. Mills will serve as a supervising attorney for the Civil Litigation Clinic, teach Legal Methods and coordinate writing projects. Professor Mills received her B.A. from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill and her J.D. from Duke Univ.

Acie L. Ward is Assistant Dean of the Evening School and earned her J.D. from North Carolina Central University. Prior to coming to NCCU Dean Ward was employed by the N. C. Department of Justice as Assistant Attorney General.

RETURNING

Maceo K. Sloan B.S., Morehouse College; M.A., Georgia State University; J.D., North Carolina Central University. Professor Sloan, a CPA and Vice-President of N. C. Mutual Insurance Company, will teach Legal Accounting.

Percy A. Luney Assistant Dean Luney received his A.B. in Geology from Hamilton College and is an alumnus of the Harvard Law School. He served as legal counsel to Fisk University as well as attorney-advisor to the Office of the U.S. Department of the Interior. Prior to coming to NCCU Dean Luney was an associate with law firm in Washington, D.C. He will teach Professional Responsibility this semester.

Suzanne M. Leary joined the NCCU faculty last year as Associate Law Librarian and Assistant Professor. Professor Leary earned her B.A. from Marquette University, a M.A. from the University of Notre Dame and a J.D. from the University of North Carolina. She will teach Legal Research and Writing and serve as evening librarian.

Larry D. Weeden teaches Legal Methods and Labor Law. He has a B.A. and J.D. from the University of Mississippi and a M.A.T. from Antioch School of Law. Professor Weeden has served as a visiting lecturer at Antioch Law School.

Charles B. Markham received his A.B. from Duke University and his LL.B. from George Washington University. He served as the first Director of Research of the E.E.O.C. and was Deputy Assistant Secretary of HUD. Professor Markham was in private practice in New York and served as Assistant Dean of Rutgers University School of Law. Professor Markham will teach Torts and Workman's Compensation this semester.

Monica K. Kalo received her B.A. from the University of North Carolina, Greensboro and the J.D. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Prior to coming to NCCU Professor Kalo was in private practice in North Carolina and now teaches Property Law and Decedent's Estates.

T. Miodana Ringer is Associate Dean and teaches Civil Procedure and Evidence. Dean Ringer received his B.A. from Morehouse College and J.D. from Harvard University and is a former Assistant Attorney General in North Carolina. He was in private practice in Durham prior to joining the NCCU faculty.

Charles E. Smith worked as a corporate counsel for several major corporations after receiving his B.S. from California Polytechnic University and his J.D. from Georgetown University. Professor Smith will teach Patents this semester.

Patricia H. Marschall teaches Contracts, Family Law and Remedies. She received her B.A. and LL.B. from the University of Texas and LL.M. from Harvard University. She served as a municipal court judge in Texas and has taught at Duke University, the University of Iowa, the University of Texas and Wayne State University law school.

Daniel G. Sampson is a former dean of the law school and serves as legal advisor to the Chancellor. Professor Sampson received his B.S. from Morehouse College; his M.S. from Atlanta University; LL.B. and LL.M. from Boston University. He will teach Torts and Commercial Law this semester.

Thomas W. Earnhardt will teach Property Law in the evening school this semester. He received his A.B. from Davidson College and his J.D. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Professor Earnhardt is a former Assistant Secretary of Administration in State Government in North Carolina.

George Carey has taught law at the University of Alabama, Loyola of New Orleans and the University of Dayton. He received his B.A. from the University of Houston and J.D. from Catholic University. Professor Carey will teach Civil Procedure and Estate and Gift Tax this semester.

James P. Beckwith will teach Contracts and Relational Injuries this semester. He received his A.B. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and his J.D. from the University of Chicago. Professor Beckwith is a former teaching fellow at the University of Miami and has recently been commissioned to write a monograph on alternatives to lawsuits for the settlement of disputes.

Albert Broderick received his B.A. from Princeton University, his LL.B. and S.J.D. from Harvard University and his D.Phil. from Oxford University. Professor came to NCCU from Catholic University and will teach Constitutional Law and Civil Rights this semester.

Douglas W. Martin is our law librarian and responsible for library services. Professor Martin holds a B.A. from City College of New York, a M.S. from Columbia University and a S.D. from Harvard University. He is a former reference librarian at Benjamin Cardozo School of Law of Yeshiva University.

Fred J. Williams returned home to Durham after several years with the Public Defender's Office in Fayetteville, North Carolina. Professor Williams received his B.A. from Duke University and his J.D. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He will teach Criminal Procedure and Criminal Litigation Clinic this semester.

WANTED

MANAGING EDITOR
ASSOCIATE EDITOR
FEATURE CONTRIBUTORS
STAFF WRITERS
ARTISTS

CORRESPONDENTS FROM STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS
TYPISTS
PHOTOGRAPHERS
LAYOUT & PRODUCTION
CLASSIFIED ADS

We plan to publish the BARRISTER monthly so volunteers are needed in all of the above positions. The opinions and articles published are the sole expressions of the authors and not necessarily the views of the BARRISTER staff, the law school, its students or faculty. Therefore all signed articles will be published where the editors feel they are of general interest to the student body. Articles should be submitted single-spaced and print-ready two weeks prior to publication by delivery to the BARRISTER office in the basement or placed in the BARRISTER mailbox.

"Every man owes a part of his time and money to the business or industry in which he is engaged. No man has a moral right to withhold his support from an organization that is striving to improve conditions within his sphere."

-Theodore Roosevelt
