THE UTMOST

To live is to love life
To be the true you
To the UTMOST, as you believed.

Beyond the dense fog of our thunderous yesterdays
I can hear that rare voice
Yes, my friend
At times yet
My mind simulates
That ever gentle presence of your countenance;
That rare but overpowering smile of friendship.

Surely you're missed
But then...you always knew you would be.

At once, upon hearing your fate
My heart was saddened,
But lifted again.
'Cause as I recall
You never pretended...never surrendered
You were always you....never someone 'new'.

You left us with a legacy
Of Honesty, Sincerity, and Devotion
To Commitments.
For me, my short time friend
I shall go and continue
To strive for that utmost;
I shall go and continue
To live to love life.
Gene, thanks.
I shall go and continue.

Michael.

New Kid on the Block

In light of his youthful appearance, "new kid on the block" fits Professor Jack B. Johnson perfectly. He joined the faculty here in January 1984 to teach Federal Income Taxation and Advanced Taxation.

Professor Johnson obtained his B.S. in Business Administration at Benedict College in Columbia, South Carolina. At Howard University, he received his J.D. finishing in the top 15% of his class. Later, he completed twelve hours in Graduate Tax at Georgetown University Law Center. From 1976 until the present, he has worked as an Attorney-Advisor in Tax for the Office of Chief Counsel, Interpretative Division. His duties there include answering questions of tax law raised by the litigating Divisions of the Office of Chief Counsel and the ruling divisions of the various Assistant Commissioners of the Internal Revenue Service.

Prior to this position, he worked as a Tax Attorney for the Office of Chief Counsel (Regional Counsel Office) in the General Litigation Division.

Professor Johnson has also authored two publications, one entitled "Valuation of Community Property Minority Interests" in The Journal of Taxation. The other publication was entitled, "Congress Act to Simplify Deferred Payment Sales" in The National Bar Journal Bulletin.

THE NORTH CAROLINA ASSOCIATION OF WOMEN ATTORNEYS, INC.

If you are searching for extra-curricular involvement that will not cut deeply into your limited social time, you need look no further, the NCAWA has something for you. As a student member, you will appreciate the annual meeting and periodic meeting and periodic sponsorship of interesting seminars addressing the social, economic, and political inequities endured by women in the eighties.

All this in exchange for 1) a newsletter with job announcements, conference announcements, judge profiles and legislative updates, 2) a Continuing Legal Education Seminar held at the NCAWA's annual meeting, 3) a successful government action program which has made significant strides in its lobbying efforts by securing alterations in the N.C. equitable distribution and tenancy by the entirety statutes, 4) a Speaker's Bureau providing names for speakers in various areas of the law, 5) an "old girls network" encouraging professional responsibility, and 6) a nominating committee which has endorsed women attorneys as candidates for judgeships, such as Judge Jacqueline Morris-Goodson and Judge Patricia Stanford-Hunt and appointments to governmental boards and commissions, such as Professor Adrienne Fox of MCCU School of Law who was appointed to a committee for the North Carolina Bar Association for investigating new admittees to the Bar.

Annual student membership dues are $10. For more information, please contact: Teresa L. Smallwood, 311 S. LaSalle St., Apt. 45H, Durham, NC, 27705. (919)286-1154. Also look for announcements regarding upcoming Seminars sponsored by the NCAWA student members.

The dazzling effect of Federal Income Taxation.

The mesmerizing effect of

Real Estate Finance.

Dear Editor,

This letter comes to acknowledge the many letters of congratulations and recommendations I received during my vie for the Student Representative position on the governing board of the North Carolina Association of Women Attorneys. Funds did not permit the NCCU law school family to attend the NCAWA's annual meeting in great numbers as did our learned opposition from UNC-CH. Nonetheless, the letters which I received were bound and made available to members of the NCAWA as a symbol of the well wishes emanating from almost every organization and office of capacity in this school.

Thanks to you on November 12, 1983, I was elected the first Student Representative from NCCU. Heretofore, this position had been dominated by our colleagues from UNC-Chapel Hill. It was a significant achievement for me because it afforded me the opportunity to build a closer bond of sisterhood and unity with many members of this law school community.

A special thanks, though long overdue, is extended to Mitzie Presnell and Terry Shook for their warm hospitality and genuine support while I was a guest in their home attending the NCAWA annual meeting. It made the difference.

The International Legal Fraternity Phi Delta Phi

PHI DELTA PHI is no longer a one dimensional fraternity. Along with the great parties, PHI DELTA PHI now provides the law school and community with programs and activities which serve to better emphasize the goals and objectives of this law school.

With a trip to the United States Supreme Court from March 23-26, law week programs and a continued desire to serve the law school community, PHI DELTA PHI is looking for members who are willing to work towards these objectives.

Initiation for the Spring semester will be in the middle of February and all interested students are welcome. If you are interested, please contact any PHI DELTA PHI member or leave a message in the PHI DELTA PHI mailbox.

HAPPY HOUR is every friday from 4-7 p.m. at the Holiday Inn on Hillsborough Road. ALL ARE WELCOME.
