WAKE FOREST LAW REVIEW

TO: NCCU School of Law
Faculty and Students

FROM: Wake Forest Law Review

On behalf of the Wake Forest Law Review, we cordially invite you to our 1998 Business Law Symposium, "Entering a New Era in Telecommunications Law." The Symposium will be held Friday, April 3rd, @ Graylyn Conference Center in Winston-Salem, NC. There is no charge for students and faculty. You are welcome to come to all or part of the event.

We do ask that you e-mail or call by March 27th to give us the approximate number of people that will be attending (you may call as a group or each person attending may call). Space for the Symposium is limited. Lunch is not provided; however, there are restaurants near Graylyn. If you have a group, please contact us; we may be able to assist you in making arrangements for lunch.

If you have any questions or need further assistance, please e-mail us @ symposium@law.wfu.edu or call Chris Buchanan, the Symposium Editor, @ (336) 758-4604 or Rosemary Sigmon, the Law Review Administrative Assistant, @ (336) 758-5439.

FAMILY LAW CLINIC

All students interested in Family Law Clinic -- If you have not had Family Law, please sign up for the Clinic anyway.

Hopefully, Family Law will be added to the curriculum for the Fall. You may take the courses simultaneously.

Thanks for your interest!

LAW JOURNAL NEWS

There will be a Law Journal meeting Thursday, March 26, 1998 @ 2:30 p.m. in the Law Journal Office. The topic is elections. If you cannot attend and you would like to run for an office, please contact Toni.

The North Carolina Central Law Journal is holding a contest!

Submit an article. It can be an article you have written, or you can encourage someone outside the law school community to submit an article. The student who submits the article chosen for publication will win a special prize.

Submit all articles to Toni Hale or Michael Williams of the Law Journal Board.

Articles are due in by Thursday, April 2, 1998.
