CAREER SERVICES NEWS SUMMER 2000

To all
*SOUTHEASTERN
MINORITY JOB
FAIR* participants:

The job fair will be held in Atlanta, Georgia on August 11, and 12, 2000 at the Embassy Suites Airport Hotel. Fifty percent of each employer's interview schedule has been filled randomly by computer and the remaining fifty percent has been filled by each individual employer. I should receive a copy of your complete interview schedule by July 12th. You may call my office on this date to find out what employers you will have an interview with during the job fair. After you have had an opportunity to consider the interviews you have been granted, you need to make a definite decision as to whether or not you will attend the job fair. You should call me by July 17th at 12:00 noon to confirm acceptance of or cancel your interviews. You may cancel any or all of your interviews. If I do not hear anything from you by this deadline, I will assume that you do not wish to attend and will cancel all of your interviews. Due to the number of no-shows in past years, we are required to cancel students who do not confirm their attendance. Please mark this very important date on your calendar.

The *FALL 2000
ON - CAMPUS
INTERVIEW SEASON* will begin on Wednesday, September 6, 2000. In order to prepare for the upcoming interview season, I am asking that all students have a draft of your updated resume prepared when you return for the fall semester. I will begin scheduling appointments with students to review resumes beginning August 1st and a resume/interview information session will be scheduled for soon after you return in August. Panelists will include recruitment coordinators from large area law firms. Because the fall OCI season begins so early, all students must be ready to hit the ground running. The first resume drop deadline for interviews will be Monday, August 28th. Fall on-campus interview information as well as resume referral and direct mail requests will be posted on the OCI+ system beginning August 1st. You may sign-up for interviews on OCI+ or by visiting the Career Services Office. If you have not picked up your OCI+ password, you may contact me (Attorney Lisa Morgan) at 560-6115 or by e-mail at lmorgan@wpo.nccu.edu.

I hope that your jobs this summer have been rewarding experiences. Continue to have a great summer and I look forward to seeing you in August!

PRO BONO NEWS

PRO BONO CLINIC COURSE

Interested in something different, exciting and enriching? The Pro Bono Clinic course this Fall will emphasize developing and executing "working projects." Teams of 2 to 5 students will have options such as working with the Durham County District Court Judges to develop Durham County's Truancy Hearing procedure; or developing a pro bono project of their own with an organization Central School of Law has an existing relationship with or a new organization the student may have an interest and/or relationship with; or working on projects with the Appellate Defender's Office, Prisoner Legal Services or Center for Death Penalty Litigation. Each student team will be responsible for completing a report of their project. This course is 1 (one) credit hour.

PRO BONO PROJECTS

Participating in pro bono projects is an excellent way to gain practical legal experience while providing much needed services to those who cannot afford to hire an attorney. Central School of Law is dedicated to providing free legal services to the traditionally under represented and under served population of Durham County and other surrounding areas. If you are interested in providing Pro Bono services, please see Natalie J. McKinney, Pro Bono Coordinator, Room 212 and see the Pro Bono/Public Interest Law Board on the 2nd floor.

REMINDER TO LAW SCHOOL STUDENTS

PLEASE REMOVE ALL ITEMS FROM YOUR SCHOOL OF LAW STUDY CARRELS BY JULY 21, 2000. ANY ITEMS LEFT IN THE CARRELS AFTER THIS DATE WILL BE REMOVED BY THE STAFF.

THANK YOU.

ADR Clinic Fall Semester 2000

Notice to students who pre-registered for ADR for Fall semester

The ADR course offered in the fall semester is the two-hour ADR Clinic, not the three-hour ADR classroom course. Please read the following description carefully to determine whether your schedule can accommodate the demands of the ADR Clinic.

First of all, students will receive an intensive 40-hour training program in Basic Mediation, Arbitration, Collaborative Law and related subjects. The training is provided by the staff of Carolina Dispute Settlement Services, Inc. (CDSS). The training will take place Monday through Friday, August 15 through August 18. The sessions will begin 8:00 A.M. each day and run until 5:30 PM with a break for lunch. Punctuality and attendance at all training sessions is mandatory.

During the regular semester, the class will meet for one hour on Tuesday mornings at either 9:00 or 10:00 AM.

Beginning the week of August 21, students will rotate through the District Court Mediation Program in Wake County. Initially, students will be supervised by attorney-mediators or experienced non-attorney volunteer mediators and will act as observers or co-mediators in district court criminal matters. District Court is held on Mondays and Fridays only. There is a morning and an afternoon session each of those days. Students are required to spend no less than five sessions in district court, participating in at least 6 mediations. Morning sessions of District Court begin at 9:00 AM and adjourn about 12:00 noon. After court, we will return to the office of CDSS for discussion and debriefing. Thus, students should plan to spend approximately 4 ½ hours, from 8:45 AM to about 1:00 PM, at the morning sessions. Afternoon sessions of court begin at 2:00 PM and adjourn at 5:00 PM. It is not uncommon for a mediation to extend beyond 5:00. Students should plan to spend at least 3.5 hours, roughly from 1:45 to 5:15, at the afternoon sessions. You must complete your hours and mediations by July 28, 2000.

Judges and District Attorneys rotate through the Wake County "peoples' court" where these mediations are done, and there is no standard procedure for assigning cases to mediation. Usually the DA will screen the cases on the docket after the calendar call for ones that are suitable for mediation. He then turns them over to the mediators and the cases are mediated in the small rooms adjoining the courtroom. Some judges will encourage the parties to consider mediating their cases, others make no effort to do so. There have been days when no cases were referred to mediation and days when there were more cases than mediators. There is simply no way to predict how many cases will be available on any day, if any. Friday mornings are often less busy than Monday mornings, but not always. Inevitably, students will spend more than a few hours sitting in court waiting for something to happen. Even those hours, however, have considerable educational and entertainment value.

Students must participate in no less than six district court mediations, and must be the "lead" mediator in at least two. One of the goals of the course is to bring students to a level of competence that will permit them to be certified by CDRS to serve as volunteer mediators in District Court.

Students will also have a chance to mediate cases in Durham County Court. The program in Durham is still in the developmental stage, so students should plan on coming to Raleigh for most of their cases.

A number of other ADR programs are handled at the Raleigh and Durham offices of CDSS. They include: felony and juvenile drug courts, which employ a "therapeutic justice" model in drug offender cases; family mediation; Attorney General consumer complaints mediations; District Court arbitration; and Separating Together, a collaborative law approach to separation and divorce. Students are encouraged to observe or to participate in these programs as caseloads and scheduling permits.

Any student may register for ADR Clinic. The ADR course is not a prerequisite, nor are students who have taken ADR foreclosed from taking the clinic. Enrollment is absolutely capped at 20 students. In the event of over subscription, preferences will generally be given to upper classmen, and final enrollment will be fixed no later than August 7.

To summarize, you must be at the Law School by 8:00 AM on August 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18, attend all day, everyday, spend at least five sessions in district court, do at least 6 mediations and take lead in two of those. In addition, class will meet one hour per week.
