ACLU/Civil Liberties Talk Set for Monday, October 6 at 4pm

"Dirty Dancing, Oliver North and Guantanamo Bay: The ACLU and Civil Liberties"

What do Oliver North, dirty dancing and Guantanamo Bay have in common? Each has been the subject of litigation by the ACLU, the largest public interest law firm in the United States. The American Civil Liberties Union continues to defend the Constitution and Bill of Rights on the national front, and state constitutional rights on the affiliate level. Patricia Camp, Executive Director of the ACLU's North Carolina chapter and former NCCU Law adjunct professor will discuss some of the ACLU's most interesting current cases and the opportunities for service for law students and attorneys. Monday October 6, 2003 at 4:00 pm in Room 100. The event is sponsored by the Pro Bono/Public Interest Program.

Patricia Camp, Executive Director of the NC ACLU

PHI ALPHA DELTA NEWS

On Saturday, September 20, 2003, the Watkins Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta international law fraternity attended the District Conference at Wake Forest School of Law. Phi Alpha Delta is the world's largest law fraternity that is dedicated to promoting professional competency, service, and achievement within the legal profession. The conference participants presented workshops on reactivating an inactive chapter, activities for a chapter, and bridging the gap between law school and the working world. Shavonnie Ray (President), Arin Jones (Vice President), and Ashley Cannon (Clerk) attended the conference and presented on membership and retention of members. The Watkins Chapter additional executive board includes Anika Hardmon (Treasurer), Mary Garganus (Marshall), and Kimberly McInnis (Jr. Marshall). The National Convention will be held in Los Angeles, California on August 5, 2004.
